Welcome once again to our humble pages. In the last couple of years many of you out there have been demanding more products with TVs in mind. My involvement in filmmaking has kept me very busy, but we have gathered some material for you. On page 17 there is an ad that will hopefully cater to some of your requests. I am almost ashamed to release to the general public the photo sets of yours truly. Not that I feel they are too naughty, quite the opposite. I have no reason to be ashamed of anything that I did in front of the camera. I would do the same today if I could just get rid of these few extra inches that just won't seem to budge. Know the feeling?

Also in this issue: Millie returns! Two issues ago we introduced to our mag the very practical and entertaining column, "Millie's Helpful Hints." This column is a special on color and making color work for you. Also welcome in a new capacity, Sally. Any avid reader of our mag will recognize Sally from her numerous contributions to our letters pages. We felt that we could not pass up the opportunity to invite Sally to become a regular writer on our staff. We hope you enjoy her antics as well as those of her friends.

Last but not least, let us not forget to thank Lerey for the opportunity to cover, in our pages, the fabulous, "Battle of the V.I.P.s." It is always an honor to attend her festivities and this year's winner is truly astounding. We hope to see more of her in our pages soon.

A special note: Please, please use special caution in your sex life. Limit your number of sexual partners and consider safe sex practices. I love all of you too much to lose you to this horrible tragedy that has struck many of my friends in their prime. We can all still have a lot of fun. Safe fun.

Take good care,
Kim Christy

Millie's Helpful Hints

It's amazing how important color is to us, whether we realize it or not. I had always suspected that certain colors looked good on me, and that others were not as good. Well, my suspicions were confirmed when I read the book Color Me Beautifully, by Carole Jackson.

This book categorizes people into four color groups, based on skin tone. The four groups are designated as Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winter. I discovered that I was an "Autumn," and that I should wear colors from the Autumn palette of colors, including oranges, browns, greens, reds, and no blue or pink or purple.

The determination of which season suits you best is not so much based on hair and eye color, but on skin tone. Looking very carefully at my skin, I could see a yellow undertone, more than a red or pink undertone. This was the key.

After studying the book and the various palettes, I met with a color consultant, who confirmed my guess that I was an Autumn. She pointed out which colors of the Autumn palette would be best for me to concentrate on when shopping for clothes (men's clothes, as far as she knows). The big advantage is that now I save time in shopping because if a blouse or skirt doesn't come in one of my colors, I don't have to wonder if it would look good on me. I can just skip over the items that aren't in my palette.

Most color consultants are happy to work with men, just as they are happy to work with women. The important thing is to be interested in learning about color, and what is best for you. You can find color consultants in the yellow pages, and a $50 fee for a consultation can be well worth it. The consultant I met with gave me a packet of swatches, including all the Autumn colors. I can take this packet with me to the store, or even compare with colors in catalogues. The consultant referred to suits, ties, and shirts, and all the time I was thinking about blouses and skirts.

I was disappointed that I didn't get the make-up part of the consultation.

That is also part of the book Color Me Beautiful and is normally part of a color consultation for women. If you arrange your consultation as part of a class, you can listen and observe while the women make-up color.

I have heard some people say that Color Me Beautiful is a bunch of bunk. I happen to believe it makes color understandable to the layman. I don't happen to have time to take a college course in color coordination, and I doubt if many of you readers want to take that much time.

One other comment about color and its effect on proportions. Have you ever noticed that women frequently wear dark colored skirts or pants, with a light colored top? The reason is that the dark colors tend to make the hips and thighs look slimmer, in contrast with the brighter blouse. I like to use the same theory in reverse, and wear skirt or slacks which are lighter in color than the blouse. This tends to make the hips look more prominent, and to de-emphasize my shoulders. Even though I am slender, the width of my shoulders, in relation to the slimness of my hips, is a characteristic that is impossible to hide. So I wear colors that will direct attention away from those features as much as possible.

As long as I'm discussing broad shoulders, let me say that I have so far resisted the fashion craze which brought us shoulder pads. I've seen some padded shoulders that look like the wearer should have a number and "RAMS" printed across the back! Moderate shoulder pads look OK on a nicely proportioned (i.e. slim) young lady. On me, they would be a disaster. When I'm in drag, I certainly don't want to emphasize my shoulders. Maybe some of you readers disagree. But I'll be happy to see the end of the shoulder pad fad.

In my next column, I'll talk about figure shaping, and in particular (1) using large "punch" balloons filled with water for cheap but realistic breasts, (2) a recent discovery I made on how to get the balloons in "shape," and (3) low-cost corsets. In the meantime, if you have any special hints you'd like to share, please send them to me, in care of this magazine.

Letters to the Editor

If you wish to write to Kim and possibly have your correspondence published, please address it to Kim Christy, C/O FEMALE MIMICS INTERNATIONAL, P.O. BOX 1622, Studio City, CA 91604.

Dear Kim Christy . . .

This is just a note to tell you and your staff how much good you are doing with Female Mimics International.

It is a beautiful magazine. You are a beautiful "lady." The people who you feature and who write you are beautiful too.

I saw "SHE MALE VACATION" on videotape at a gathering of TVs. IT WAS GREAT. Miss Summer giving her beauty lotion to the girl is a sexy idea. I am envious of the suepr head she got. I like your camera work too.

I sympathize with "Carol" who wrote a letter in No. 31. It is tough to be well hung when you are trying to be as feminine as possible. I know what she must go through trying to hide her maleness in tight dresses or pants. I guess we should be thankful for being well endowed "downstairs." I have about nine inches myself when erect. But I would rather look as girly as Carol does or as Laura in No. 29.

As you can see from my picture I am a beginner. I don't quite know how to do my face . . . which is why I wear so little makeup. I cannot wait until my hair grows to feminine length. I HATE wigs. I also find being 5'11" tall a drawback. Do you have any tips on tall-girl dressing?

In the "Forced Transformation" feature in No. 32, why didn't you reveal that the mistress is a she-male? I know I've seen her in hardcore TV books and she is definitely a girl/guy.

Did you see "Second Serve," the Renee Richards story on network TV? It was terrific.

My girlfriend reads FMI too. When I wear my sexiest bra and slip in peach color, it turns her on. I almost always get sucked off. That is heaven, to be perfumed and shaven, with high heels and nylons on, all the while a warm mouth devours my cock. There is nothing sexier.

Thanks for listening. I am devoted to you and your work.

I call myself,
Kathy

Dear Kim,

This is the first time I've ever written to you, but, after having recently purchased Volume 15, No. 5, I finally realized that the time had come to say "Thank You" for your efforts on behalf of all of us "she-males." You have been a champion of our lifestyle and a friend to all of us.

F.M.I. has certainly been, without question," the classiest publication of its type since its inception. As for yourself, I have always felt you were the best looking lady I'd ever seen. Whenever I felt that I needed inspiration, I'd get out photos of you and tell myself that if I could look 1/10th that good, I'd be OK.

This year is a milestone for me

— I turn 39 in April! I can look back on 25 years of when I started cross-dressing — that's right. Boy, was it easy in those days! My father was an executive who traveled a lot and often took my mother along. I was in the custody of an elderly aunt who was always asleep by 9 p.m.! I used to sneak into my mom's room and try on her clothes. At that age, her things were a perfect fit. How wonderful her delicate lingerie felt on my pubescent body. I'd fill her bra cups with nylon panties, fasten a garter belt about my waist and roll the stockings (seamless were the new "in" rage) up my slender legs. I used to choose knee-length skirts with flouncy half-slips, topped off with cashmere sweaters and wide leather belts. Sling-back leather pumps with 3-inch heels could be made to fit my feet with a little adjusting. Even today, my small feet are a definite advantage (I wear men's size 7½ — ladies size?). My mother wore clip earrings and had a wide selection of jewelry to choose from so I always had good accessories. She also had two wigs in her natural hair color. I became very adept in applying and removing make-up. After about 6 months of trials confined to the house I got up the nerve to take a stroll in the neighborhood one evening. I'll never forget how terrified I was! Expecting to be exposed by everyone who passed by. Much to my chagrin and delight I passed completely. Older people either didn't pay attention or were respectfully proper. Young girls looked with curiosity at my clothes or make-up but always smiled politely. Then the problem became apparent — young guys looked at me as being just what I appeared to be. I got whistles, catcalls and more attention than I'd bargained for. I blushed and stammered my way out of a few such instances in that first year to be sure.

Once I turned old enough to get my license to drive my folks began to leave me unsupervised. At that point I began to discover my bisexuality. In 1961, a girl who went places alone was assumed to be asking for trouble. I loved to get dressed and go to a movie. I was so good at being a girl that I even was able to brazenly march into the ladies' restrooms without fear of discovery. It was in a theatre ladies' room one night that I met a girl who struck up a conversation. She wore a tight straight mini-skirt, tank top and lots of make-up. She asked if I was alone and when I answered she invited me to sit with her for the rest of the movie. I was flattered to think I'd fooled her and agreed. After the movie, she asked me to drop her off at home which I agreed to do. When I pulled up in the lot behind her apartment building she made her move and reached under my skirt and grabbed me by the penis. She knew she had my undivided attention and what followed was a reverse rape situation that ended all too quickly for me. I came off in her hand in about two minutes! Over the next year this girl had total control of my life. When my parents were away she'd move right in and take over. She took me shopping for my own wardrobe, choose all my clothes, did my make-up, led me around to dances, parties and other events, introducing me as "Helen," her friend from out of town. She enjoyed her secret and the control she had over me. It came to an end only when she went off to get married a year later.

By the time I was a senior in high school my body had begun to change. It became harder to achieve the look I wanted. I thought that perhaps the whole scene would just go away. Of course nothing was further from the truth. When I went away to college I took "Helen's" wardrobe in the trunk of my car. I lived in an old country inn off campus because of the college housing shortage. Weekends at the college were very quiet as most of the students were commuters. On Saturday nights, Bill would disappear and Helen would arrive. "She" attended all types of events from basketball games, to concerts, and to the campus Coffee House. Inevitably I met a young guy, named Doug, in one of my classes. He was quiet, shy and good looking. I asked him if he had a girlfriend and he blushed beet red. It took me about 6 weeks to pry the admission from him that he was gay. Now remember, this was 1964 and being gay was the kiss of death. Helen decided to provide the answer to both guys' problems! As Bill, I invited Doug to a rock concert one Saturday evening. I told him to walk over to my room and that I'd drive us both to the concert. He agreed and that evening when I opened the door for Doug he stood face-to-face with Helen! Dressed in a black and green striped mini-dress with black stiletto heels, dark pantyhose, full make-up (remember the pink lipstick with white over it?), long black wig and even false fingernails, I'll never forget the look on Doug's face! His jaw hit the floor because I'd said "Hi Doug!" in Bill's voice. That night was a milestone in both our lives. People saw Doug out with a "girl" and to protect her from the slobs who tried to "make time" with her.

We made love in my room after the concert that evening, three times. He treated me just like a girl wanted to be treated — gently and passionately. I'd never had a guy's cock in my mouth before but he showed me what to do and then did it all to me in return. We had four years together in that relationship and it was the happiest time of my life. To this day I don't believe that anyone knew the truth. When we graduated in 1968 we were both inducted into the Army. Vietnam was in full swing and we both were sent there but in very different capacities. I was with a division support unit and saw very limited action. Doug was with the First Infantry Division as a foot soldier. I found out later that he was killed by a booby-trap with 41 days left on his tour.

After my discharge I got a good job for myself and settled into a very heterosexual lifestyle. Helen was nowhere to be seen from 1970 to 1978. I met a wonderful gal in 1971 and got married. We had three children, all of whom I love as dearly as my wife. Over three years I took her pulse on the subject of cross-dressing a number of times. It is evident that she would never tolerate my "other side." I've had to learn to live with this and adapt.

Because of this I've had to live a dual life since 1979. That year I discovered, quite accidentally, that one of my employees was a TV. I had gone to a local club one evening with some male friends from work. The place was packed with all types of people, young, middle and older ages, men and women. A local rock group was playing and everyone was drinking and dacing. I was doing my best to prove that at 32 I wasn't "over the hill" on the dance floor. Just then, a very attractive younger woman with short blonde hair and an attractive figure brushed up against me. As I turned, the band began to play a slow song and she asked me to dance! I was fascinated and said "yes." As I took her into my arms she pressed close and I could smell her perfume as it surrounded me. I was totally captured and unprepared when she asked me if I wanted to go somewhere for a drink. We left the club separately and met in the parking lot outside. She said her name was "Jo-ann" and I stupidly lied and said mine was "Bob." We got into my car and she suggested her place for another drink. I drove about 2 miles to a classy neighborhood of brownstone townhouses. When we got inside her apartment, she turned and kissed me aggressively. I felt unable and unwilling to resist. Our lips opened, our tongues met, our breathing became heavy and my dick went straight. We began shedding clothing as we moved to her bedroom. When I was down to undershorts, she still had bikini panties, bra and a silk blouse on. That much clothing was a “turn-on” and she soon had my cock in her hand with a steady pumping rhythm. I began to beg for relief and then “she” let go of my cock and in a very male voice that I recognized immediately, said, “But, Bill, if you come first, will you remember to take care of me?” Obviously my mouth fell open and my dick went flaccid! The voice belonged to a slender, effeminate young man who had worked in my office mail room for 3 years. You can image the thoughts that raced through my mind. I was ruined — my creer and my home life were going to be destroyed!

Of course nothing could have been further from the truth. Jo-ann confessed to having a “crush” on me for years. Our meeting that evening had been pure chance and since she had drunk as much as I she decided to see if she could put the make on me. It worked! She not only blew my socks off that night, but also introduced me to anal intercourse. I reciprocated by sucking every last drop of her sweet jism down my throat. When we were both spent we lay together talking quietly. We decided to conduct a discreet affair and she understood my family situation and accepted it. After three or four dates I decided to test her reaction to Helen. My family always summered at a resort about three hours from our regular home. They’d leave in late June and return Labor Day. I would come down on weekends and for the last week of August through the holiday.

About two days before the family was due to depart I conjured up a story about an allergic reaction that caused my skin to itch. My wife bought it hook, line and sinker — she applied depilatory to the areas I couldn’t reach and after I was totally smooth she spread cortisone cream on me for the “itch.” Two days later I resurrected Helen’s wardrobe from the storage room where it had been hidden for nine years. I was crushed! Almost everything was out of style. Reluctantly I withdrew several hundred dollars from the bank and set off to correct the problem. I was amazed at how easy shopping for women’s clothes was at that stage of my life. With my wedding band on, a shy look on my face, and the “It’s for my wife” line I got all the help I needed! I simply used my own height and weight measurements (5’6” and 145 lbs.) and in no time at all I had completely reconstructed the entire wardrobe with fashionable items. The wig counter at a local department store was manned by an elderly oriental lady who never blinked an eye when I took three wigs into a back room to try on! Shoes and make-up completed the ensemble and I rushed home, three hundred dollars poorer but very excited.

I had told Jo-ann of my family’s plans for the summer and suggested that we meet that evening at 8 p.m. in the lobby of a downtown hotel. I left work early, stopped at a store for some last minute items (false nails and eyelashes) and hurried home. It had been almost nine years since Helen had looked back at me from a mirror. I was very nervous as I prepared for my big evening. I took a hot bubble bath, shaved my legs and face very, very close and then used Chanel after-bath lotion all over my body. I painted my toenails because I had chosen white open toe sandals with four-inch heels. I cut a strip of old nylon stocking for a gaff — tucked my testicles into my body cavity, looped the gaff around my cock and pulled it back between my legs. This isn’t as painful as it sounds and it did give me a very flat crotch. I slipped black bikini panties on and followed with a matching black lycra bra. I filled the cups out with falsies from my old stash and stepped back for a look. Except for a slight paunch at the waist, the effect was terrific. I hurried into the bathroom to do my make-up and was shocked by the amount of time it took. I’m a perfectionist on make-up because if you do it right it prevents you from getting your bones broken by jerks who see a “beard shadow.” It took over an hour but with smoky eyeshadow, modest sized false lashes and a good bit of eyebrow pruning I was finally satisfied. I slipped into the black rawsilk shirtwaist dress I selected, put on a wide white leather belt, drawn extra tight, and then put on white plastic bracelets, necklace and earrings. I adjusted the short blonde wig, applied lipstick and perfume and then sat down to do my nails. I feel that if you have soft hands and do your nails perfectly you can effectively disguise male hands. I wore three costume jewelry rings on each hand and that helped also.

I packed a small white leather dutch purse with money, driver’s license, a gas credit card in my wife's name, cosmetics, brush and tissues. I was ready. The drive downtown took fifteen minutes and when I parked the car and began to walk towards the hotel a strange thing happened. Men started to whistle, turn their heads in admiring glances and say very complimentary things. I smiled demurely and walked to the front door of the hotel. The doorman opened the door, tipped his hat and said, "Evening Ma'am." I was exhilarated! It may have taken hours but I'd done it again!

I swung my hips a bit more, shortened my steps to accent my walk and marched right into the lobby. Jo-ann was sitting in a lounge chair, wearing a red blouse and white skirt. When I walked up to her she seemed confused and didn't recognize me at all. I bent down and quietly said, "Hi, sweetie, looking for a good time?" When she recognized my voice, her jaw dropped and she was speechless!

That night began the start of my current chapter of life. Jo-ann and Helen still go out as girlfriends and still enjoy some tender lovemaking. But each of us has also gone separate feminine ways. These days Jo-ann is into the tall, dark and handsome type, but I'm more interested in the quiet, shy type. We get together to compare notes at least once a month. Some of those notes would make interesting reading — maybe I'll send them along next time!

This letter started out as a note to thank you, Kim, for your support of all TV's. It's turned into a biography of Helen. You may print any or all of it if you feel so inclined. I've included a photo of Helen taken recently which you may also use.

I'd love to get a note from you in reply to this. I'd cherish a photo also. Since I'm sure you get tons of requests for photos I'll understand if you can't spare one. Please accept my thanks for all your efforts over the years. I feel that you are a true "sister" to all of us.

Affectionately Yours, Helen

We'd like to thank Helen for an honest account of her cross-dressing life. It isn't easy to be this frank with one's self, as I'm sure those of you who have had to live a closeted life know. It's tragic that Helen cannot share her female side with her family. She seems a warm and loving person. However Helen seems to have made the best of it for herself and we think that's great! We hope that Helen will write again soon to us and we hope that she knows that we love her.

K.C.

Dear Kim:

Below I have written information about Madeline Miles LTD as you had requested in your letter dated April 14, 1986. I have also enclosed some pictures of Stella Martin, my manager, at the recent Be All weekend displaying some of our merchandise. We are strictly a mail order company right now, however, are in the process of looking for a retail outlet now that we hope will be open in September of 1986.

Having many crossdresser and transsexual friends and acquaintances and knowing about their problems shopping — from being self-conscious to not knowing or being able to purchase the correct size, I saw a need for a supplier to this unique group of people.

I love high fashion clothes, lingerie and shoes. Being very sympathetic and understanding to the crossdressers' circumstances, along with being knowledgeable about clothing and sizing I decided with the help of my manager and close friend, Stella Martin, to start a very different mail order company. I say different because of the personal service available, the excellent quality of the merchandise, and shipment that go out in a very timely manner. Much of the merchandise I carry is sized from small to 3X-large, shoes up to size 13WW all at very competitive prices. I enjoy providing my services to people who sincerely want to look and feel as feminine as they can. My phone lines are open and I invite people to call with any questions about the company, merchandise or sizing. Better than 80 percent of our orders are shipped within 2-3 weeks.

We started the company primarily selling lingerie, offering many styles and colors to choose from. We now sell a very beautiful line of wigs, shoes, dresses, breast forms, waist cinchers, accessories, and much more. Very soon we are starting production of a new catalogue, with all our merchandise modeled by crossdressers and transsexuals. Our customers will be invited to send in pictures, as I know many would love the modeling experience. Only a few and the most attractive and passable will be selected.

Stella Martin, who is a lovely crossdresser and great personality, displayed a sampling of my merchandise at the Be All You Can Be weekend in Chicago, June 5th-8th. She was greeted warmly and enthusiastically by the attendees. I am looking forward to attending as many of these outings as possible to continue to introduce my service and let people see and try on my merchandise. I really do care about my customers and want them to be happy with the quality and price of their purchase. I am finding many people enjoy and appreciate the personal service available. I am getting many more phone calls and letters than expected. I sincerely hope these efforts will continue to produce satisfied customers and the referrals to purchase thru Madeline Miles LTD. The service can only continue with the support of the TV TS community.

My mailing list is absolutely confidential. Someone can receive my catalogue and inserts by sending $5.00 (which is refundable with their first order) to: Madeline Miles LTD, P.O. Box 701, Marlton, N.J. 08053. If there are any questions about my service or merchandise I can be reached at (609) 596-5551.

Thank you very much for the opportunity to be mentioned in your fine publication. It is by far the most respected quality publication on the market today.

If you have any questions please call.

Very Sincerely,
Madeline Miles

Dear Kim,

I want you to know that I really appreciate the work that you're doing for F.M.I. I always buy a copy when it's available here. But anyway, I have a problem that possibly you or any of your readers may help me with. I'm a 33-year-old male, almost 5'10" tall that wants to make the transition to be a transsexual. How or where to start getting hormone shots? No one around here has the information on how to get started. I am hoping that you, Kim, might help me out. Is there any group or organization out there that can help me out?

Kim, I hope that you can shed some light on these questions.

I hope that I'll hear from you soon.

Sincerely, Your Friend
Tom

Dear Tom,

Please look up your local Gay Service Center in your area. It could come under many different names so the best way to find it is to go to the closest gay bar and pick up a local gay rag. Now, if you happen to be heterosexual and the thought of going into a gay bar is horrifying, then you might think a little longer on the process of changing your gender. My experiences with the transgendered have shown me that we as a group, can afford no prejudices. So many crossdressers and changes have this dreadful attitude that they are somehow better than gay men because, "at least we play the roles."

Love,
Kim

Dear Kim,

I have only recently picked up your magazine, F.M.I. and what a pleasant surprise. I have bought every issue that is available to me. I enjoy the beautiful pictorials done tastefully and the informative articles. Unfortunately I have not been able to find recent issues of your magazine. So is there any way for a girl to subscribe to what I view as a top rate publication? Is one of the few conservatively approaches that the issues of crossdressers, she-males and transsexuals? This is the main reason I am writing but I thought also the girls might want to know how I got started. I know I enjoy reading about other sisters and their experiences so here is my little contribution.

My name is Cindy. I am 22 years old, 5'11", 175 lbs. all in the right places. I have one semester left to receive my Computer Science B.S. degree at a major University in Texas. I am to be engaged at that time to a lovely lady who understands and is extremely open minded. That's my real life but my private life is what I feel is very intriguing. I have been wearing women's clothing regularly for the past two years but have been "doing it" since I was fifteen. I was laying on my bed at home thinking about embarrassing moments in my life and one scenario stood out. I was in the second grade . . . I remember I went into the utility room to get a pair of clean shorts when I discovered my mother's panties and bras. Curious to why her underwear was different than mine I put on her lingerie. Of course it was way too big for me and I am still not quite sure why I even did it. While I was experimenting my mother walked in and boy did she make me feel foolish. Anyway I thought it would be fun to do it again after so many years. So I went in to my mother's bedroom and selected a pair of panties, a bra and some hose. I went back to my room and slipped into the lingerie. I layed back on my bed and I began to feel a sensation that I had never felt before and suddenly I realized that I was cumming all over the hose and panties. Ever since then I have been dressing up, and it is no longer for sexual stimulation for my fiancé satisfies me in that way. But I go out at night all dressed up and from the reactions I have received from others I am passable, except for my voice which really gives me away, so I keep my mouth shut and just nod my head or jecture for communication. I am not in to dating men, I never was, but I enjoy cruising with other sisters and every once and a while I get naughty. I enjoy helping all those who inquire about clothes, make-up, acting techniques and enjoy meeting other sisters be they fat, tall, skinny, short or even hairy. I do shave even though my girlfriend doesn't like a smooth body.

Thanks for your time, keep up the good work, it's been wonderful so far.

With love and kisses,
Cindy

P.S. Sorry I don't have a photo — next letter! You may print whatever you want of this letter.

Dear Cindy,

You will find subscription info on page 44. I really love to hear about early experiences and I'm sure that our readers do too. If you look elsewhere in this column you will see my answer to another inquiry about hormones.

Regina

Dear Kim,

Thank you for being there for me and all of the other sisters like us. Just knowing that classy she-males, like you and the ones in your magazine exist, makes me glad to be what I am.

I love your wonderful magazine and I think you have the most wonderful feminine aire and grace. The magazine gets better and I'm sure that you are too. Your collection of articles, ads and stories lend new insight to my own personal she-male mind.

I love being a she-male, but I have yet to overcome my shyness about it. There are many times that I want to step out of the closet and on occasion I do go out in drag and love it. However, most of the time it's in the closet for Regina. The female side of me always excites and lifts me.

I am usually in my apartment alone but I do spend my time doing constructive things. I paint and recently I finished a novel that I would like to submit to your organization for possible publication.

I feel like your magazine is the best representation of what we are about. My novel could be handled best by you because of your ability to handle material of its nature. I am very excited and would consider it an honor if you would solicit my manuscript for analysis.

Upon your request I could submit an outline and the main chapters. It's all about a transsexual of phenomenal female bearings and tells of the different paths that she was forced to follow because of what she was. Men hated and loved her because of what she seemed, and even the ones who knew what she was, chose to overlook and justify their own weakness.

I would love to hear from you soon. Meanwhile keep putting together those wonderful nuggets and keep putting them on the stands where we girls can get to them.

With Love
Regina

Dear Regina,

Thanks and please send your manuscript right away as we would love to see it. I can't guarantee an immediate response because of the backlog of work we have here, but please send it to us. Write again soon and tell us more about Regina.

*Love,
Kim*

A Convention of Eunuchs

BY ELISABETH BUMILLER

Bhopal, India

There was a convention of eunuchs going on here last week.

Every night they danced in the streets, and every day they changed from one bright sari into another. "This is like a wedding for us," said Mukhmal Bai, a carefully made-up 35-year-old eunuch with a deep voice and silver ankle bracelets.

She was here with 1000 others, all of them in town to meet old friends, compare their jewelry and eat enormous meals that go on for hours.

"This get-together was long overdue," said Kadar Hazi, a 70-year-old convention-goer dressed in a pink sari. The convention was said to be the first of its kind since 1916.

Eunuchs could be considered just another group of weird people in India, but unlike the naked holy men who live in the mountains, they take no pride in their fate.

They feel that to be born a eunuch is to be cursed by god. They say they have no sexual desires, and no ability to procreate. As a group they are aggressive and sometimes grotesque, with garish makeup and exaggerated, fey mannerisms. But

Prison guard caught wearing woman's bikini

A prison guard was fired after cops caught him changing a tire — decked out in a woman's bikini bathing suit and wearing makeup.

Lt. William Smith, 37, told the surprised officers he wanted a sex-change operation because he was "a woman trapped in a man's body," said Sheriff Dale Carson.

The shocked sheriff gave Smith the ax for conduct "unbecoming of an officer." A Civil Service Board upheld the sheriff's action by a 5-1 vote.

Lt. Smith's troubles began when police stopped to help him change a tire in Jacksonville, Fla. He identified himself as Barbara Jo Smith, but later admitted he was a guard at Jacksonville Correctional Institution.

He was dressed in a woman's bikini and was reported to be wearing makeup.

Less than two weeks later, the sheriff sent Smith a letter saying he would be dismissed. During Smith's 14 years as a guard, he got six letters of commendation and was promoted to lieutenant in 1980.

individually they calm down, and tell poignant stories of the lives they say they were destined to lead.

The eunuchs, who refer to each other as "she" and say they are born without properly formed genitals, were celebrating the selection of their new leader, or Nayak, Guru Bismillah, and also trying to publicize the plight of those in their colony in Bhopal who died in the Union Carbide gask leak here in December 1984. The eunuchs claim the government is prejudiced against them and has offered no compensation for their dead.

These are bad times for eunuchs in general. Once they were the well-fed, over-indulged guardians of the princely harems, respected for fulfilling an important function in Indian society.

But since the demise of the nawabs and the princes after Indian independence in 1947, eunuchs have been shunned as outcasts, forced to beg and make a living dancing as unwelcome guests at weddings and births.

People dislike them because they are eunuchs, but also, it has to be said, because they are often obnoxious. They have elaborate networks at hospitals and in neighborhoods, and always seem to know when a baby is born. They show up soon afterward, dancing lewdly and demanding to inspect the child to see if it has no genitals, in which case they are said to take the newborn with them as a recruit.

If a family doesn't pay them for their dancing, the eunuchs threaten to put a curse on the household or expose themselves. The eunuchs readily admit to this kind of behavior, but say it is society's cruel treatment that has made them this way.

There are said to be 50,000 eunuchs in India, although there is some debate and confusion about this. The term "eunuch," which is how these people are commonly referred to in India, is defined in the dictionary as a castrated male.

Some historical accounts say the eunuchs who served the harems were castrated for the job, but modern-day eunuchs say they are born with the undeveloped genitals of one sex, or some characteristics of both sexes — such as one testicle and one ovary. In Hindi, the eunuchs are called "hijras," meaning a person of neither sex.

Roberta a Big Hit!

Brazilian transvestite Roberta Close in a tv spot for Gelli, a closet marketer, in which he tells viewers to beware of imitations. Translated, the copy reads: Gelli—the well-designed closet. ArtPlan, Rio de Janeiro, is the agency.

Dear Kim,

Enclosed please find a clipping from Advertising Age. Now here's a "girl" who's really going places. Maybe you can reprint the story for all the readers to enjoy.

Who says the business world is dull?

Love to you and your beautiful publication,
Jaye Jaye

Dear Jaye Jaye,

Thanks! What a fun article.
Please, readers, help us gather more news from afar.

By JULIA MICHAELS

SAO PAULO — Roberta Close is not your average fashion model turned tv commercial actress.

For one thing, he's a man who began taking female hormones and dressing like a woman when he was in his teens. For another, the 22-year-old transvestite has achieved national fame since bursting on the Brazilian ad scene about a year ago.

Robert's red-hot career began last year when adman Chico Abrea, creative director at Art-Plan, Rio de Janeiro's largest advertising agency, spotted the 22-year-old at an airport when he swiveled up to a ticket counter, clad in skintight blue jeans.

Mr. Abrea's idea was to use Roberta in a tv spot for his client, Gelli, a marketer of closets. The spot would focus on telling the real Gelli closet from a competitor's fake.

After Mr. Abrea managed to sell his client on the idea, Roberta was appearing in Gelli commercials, warning Rio tv viewers to beware of imitations.

In the spots, he carefully crossed his long legs and delivered the tag line, "Don't be fooled by appearances."

"It was a very decent commercial,"

The two-month campaign was punctuated with a series of planted stories in local gossip columns and magazines, informing readers about the transvestite tv debut. ArtPlan also followed Roberta everywhere, making sure he was dressed to the nines.

Shown at Cannes in June during the advertising film festival, the spot didn't win any prizes. Mr. Abrea said transvestites don't appeal to Europeans the way they do to Brazilians, who often cross-dress during Carnival time.

Whether transvestites would succeed in U.S. ads is another question, too.

Keith Reinhard, chairman-chief executive officer at Needham, Harper & Steers/USA, saw the ad at Cannes. Viewers there regarded it as "an interesting curiosity," he said.

"I don't know if it's ever been tried in quite that way [in the U.S.], but of course it would work in America under the right circumstances," Mr. Reinhard said. "But the question is, 'What are those circumstances?'"

"If it's done with great humor and wit, I certainly would not say, 'What a horrible thought,' but it would depend entirely on the context and how it was done."

Since the Gelli commercial, Roberta has appeared nude twice (but carefully positioned with legs crossed) in the local edition of Playboy and has received an on-air kiss and a marriage proposal from a male tv interviewer.

Brazilians also have named a flu bug after him (Brazilians treat flu epidemics like hurricanes), and he has served as an eye-catching jury member for the Saturday afternoon "Chacrinha Casino" tv show, a sort of amateur hour.

Roberta also has appeared in Paris Match and is talking to the local Guy Laroche perfume franchisee about a modeling job. Cosmetics and suntan lotion commercials are in the works, too.

As for Roberta himself, he said his ambition is to become a successful fashion model and noted that he was featured on two Brazilian magazine covers in August.

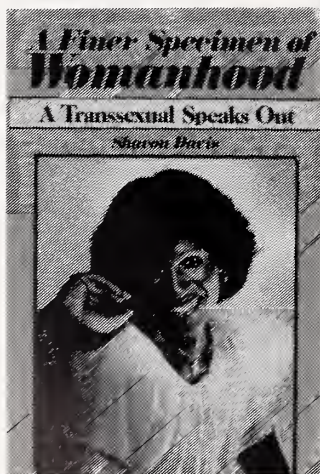

When asked about his sexuality, Roberta replies in a soft, whispery voice that he experienced a "personality change" in his early teens.

Asked why he dresses as a woman, he said, "It was born inside of my person. It was for my personal happiness, not for professional reasons. It made me feel better."

He said he's considered a sex-change operation but not for two or three years because his career is keeping him too busy.

A Transsexual Speaks Out.

Review by Kim Christy

A Finer Specimen of Womanhood, by Sharon Davis.

What a joy it was to receive this great and revelatory tome in the mail recently. Sharon sent it along with a touching inscription to us mentioning the magazine as a source of help for her. Thank you for that, Sharon. What stood out to me the most was the incredible will that Sharon displayed in the face of adversity. Sharon is very frank about her less-than-angelic life and history and somehow we don't even stop to judge. (We can't afford to.) If you are considering a sex change, this book is a must. If I had to face half the challenge that Sharon did I don't know if I could have done it. What seems to have held her together for all those years was a strong and unquavering belief in God. Sharon's description of electrolysis and the slow but sure progress of female hormones is informational and riveting.

The book is illustrated with some cunning photos of Sharon by Wendell Putney. She made a wonderful transition to womanhood and her appearance is tasteful and attractive. She is obviously a sexy woman who doesn't have to dress like a two-bit hooker to get her point across. See our ad for ordering information.

A Finer Specimen of Womanhood

By Sharon Davis

Sharon Davis shares with us the incredible experience of her transformation from man to lovely woman. Her story is inspiring and holds a spiritual message for us all. But don't let that put you off, her story is told with humor and sensuality, as well. So many of the specifics of the experience of a sex-change are so intimately described that this book will fascinate you. Hardbound, $7.95

AND HER FRIENDS

Sally will be a regular contributor to F.M.I. We hope you enjoy her stories. If you wish to write to Sally you can do so by writing to: Sally, c/o Leoram Productions, P.O. Box 1622, Studio City, CA 91604.

"Oh Sally, you just won't believe what happened to me the other night." Priscilla came swishing through the doorway in a very pretty dress. She did make a darling girl with her cute face and sexy legs. I, myself, was trying to do my nails when the doorbell rang, but who could resist listening to one of my friends latest escapades . .

I had decided on a movie and finally found a seat next to a young lady. As the movie progressed I became more and more entranced with the leading man and began fantasizing about making love with him. I was so engrossed that I barely heard the girl next to me say, "Well, how did you like it?" — and I woke up to the fact that the movie was over and she was trying to leave. "Oh, I'm so sorry," and I got up to let her by. But she said, "You first," and started a conversation about the movie as we walked up the aisle. She was a beautiful girl with a great figure. Then she asked if I'd like a cup of coffee, and I said that would be nice, and we went to a nearby coffee shop and continued to talk. Finally, she said, "You're very pretty; I notice you're not wearing a ring. Are you going with someone?" I began to stutter a little and mumbled that I wasn't at the present time. "Oh, what a shame," she said, "but I'm sure the right man will come along. Say, it's early and I'd like some company. How about stopping by my place for a nightcap, and I've got some great records." She caught me by surprise, and I said yes before I could think of anything else to say. She only lived three blocks away, and on the way I was beginning to wonder if she was a lesbian or something.

When we arrived at her apartment, she turned on some music, got us a drink and started asking me all kinds of questions about boyfriends, what I thought about sex and I was getting a little nervous. Then she began telling me how pretty I was again and that she really liked me, and then she got up and said she'd be right back. I thought she was just going to the bathroom, but when she returned she was wearing a negligee. She came and stood in front of me with a smile on her face and then I got the shock of my life. She opened her negligee and there between her legs was one of the biggest cocks I'd ever seen. I just couldn't believe it. I looked up at her and gasped and as I did she manipulated it into a mammoth erection that actually brushed my lips. I opened my mouth to speak, and in it went! I was petrified. I'd never had a cock in my mouth in my life. I struggled to free myself and said "Please, Terry, I don't like that. I consider myself a girl, and want a real man doing that to me." I said it without even thinking. Then she was the one that looked surprised and said "You too? I don't believe it. Let me see." So I got up and lifted my skirt and slip and slipped my panties down. She said "I don't believe it, but I'm sorry. I'll never force myself on you again if that's the way you want it. I guess we're both in a little shock."

She sat down again next to me and asked if I really meant it about wanting a man. I blushed and said I guess so, I fantasize a lot about it, but I don't really know. Then she said, "I know at least half a dozen men, nice men that would be crazy about you. And they're real men who date real girls, but also like "girls," like you and me. I date them often and they treat me just like a lady. Would you be interested?" "Well, I might like to try once," I said. "Done! Next Saturday night I'll have two handsome men take us to dinner and dancing. Wear your prettiest dress, and I'll see you here at six."

I was so excited about Saturday night I didn't know what to do. The week dragged, but I spent time shopping for a new dress, and I wanted some beautiful new lingerie just in case. So I had fun picking out things just like a new bride.

Finally, Saturday arrived. I had a new hairdo and a manicure, and at six, dressed in my beautiful new clothes, I arrived at Terry's. She gushed over me, and said that when Mark saw me he would cum right in his pants. I blushed and said, "Terry, what an awful thing to say."

When the doorbell rang I must have jumped two feet, and Terry had to calm me down before she let in two very good looking men. Mark came over to me and said, "So, this is Priscilla. She's as lovely as you said, Terry," and he leaned over and lightly kissed my lips. I was thrilled beyond words. He commented on my dress and said I had beautiful legs, and I was just enthralled with him. So charming and gentlemanly all evening and a wonderful dancer. He certainly treated me like a lady. I never wanted it to end.

After we said goodnight to Terry and her friend, he drove me home, and on the way he took my hand and placed it on his thigh so that I had to move closer, and as I did my hand inadvertently brushed his crotch. He looked at me and smiled, and I guess he thought I had meant to do it. I lowered my eyes as he said, "I liked that honey, please do it again." I started to protest, but he took my hand and placed it directly on his stiffening penis, and said, "It's alright." I just couldn't resist and started to gently massage his huge organ.

When we went inside my apartment it seemed the most natural thing in the world for him to take me in his arms and kiss me passionately. I knew I was falling in love with this man. Without a word I turned on some music, fixed him a drink, and turned my back to him. I said, "Please unzip me, honey." As he did I felt his erection poking into me. I told him I'd be right back and I knew his clothes would be off when I returned to stand before him in my lacy bra, garter belt, panties, nylons and heels. I stood and watched spellbound as his cock slowly grew to enormous proportions, and then I went to him and let him help me to my knees. I put my hand around the base of his hard penis and looked up as my tongue flicked the bulging head. I wondered if I would ever be able to get that huge thing in my mouth. I opened wide and unlike with Terry, I was in heaven as it slid through my lips. I then maneuvered my head back and forth to give him all the pleasure I could, and he groaned with ecstasy.

Then he pulled away, and I looked up surprised. As he helped me to my feet he said he wanted to love me like a woman and took me to my bed where he placed me in position. I looked around as he returned from the bathroom and saw that his penis was covered with vaseline. Then I felt his cock penetrate me. At first it was painful and I cried out, but he was very gentle as he thrust at first slowly and then ever more rapidly. The pain subsided and only the thrill of being fucked like a real girl entered my mind. I was in another world of orgasmic ecstasy as I felt his body stiffen, and his cock grow ever larger as he exploded in me, and I felt every ounce of his juice that gushed inside me. As he started to pull out of me, I said, "Please, honey, don't move for a little while. I want to enjoy this moment for as long as I can. I'll remember it forever."

Later, on the sofa, nestled in his arms, I looked at him with love and whispered, "At last."

TV CONFESSIONS

PART IX

Chris took the coat into the living room with him and put it over one of the three bar stools. There was just enough martini left for nearly a double shot and he felt he might just as well kill the juice off. Martinis had played such an important part during the past couple of years of his life. But never quite as many as he had put away that night. They didn't seem to affect him too much, still just that slight blur to his eyes.

Something was bothering him and he couldn't put his fingers on the reason. It was something down very deep in his guts and it wouldn't surface itself. But he was troubled, yet he couldn't let it interfere with what he had to do. Things like his job always took cool, steel nerves. He had to know every moment what he was doing. He thought deeply that perhaps one of the reasons for his anxiety was that he had not cased the situation himself in his usual method of operation. But the operation was so simple. He knew the territory, he knew his prey.

He felt a sudden chill even though the room was quite warm, so he slipped into the fur coat. The fur felt good to his touch, and another sip of the martini felt good to his guts.

"Ah, hell," he muttered half aloud. "It's only nerves." But then another flash put a follow-up message into his brain. "But I've never been nervous like this before." He took the rest of the martini, then pulled the coat tightly around his chest. It felt so damned good. He wished he had more time. The coat could furnish him with a sensational trip to the bathroom.

He thought of Tiny and Richard as one of his hands stroked the fur at the front of the beautiful and very expensive coat. His eyes glared into the empty martini glass and the mind's eye pictures came to him.

Richard had stood good for his promise. That following Wednesday found Chris out of work with the flu. Chris no longer dressed as a male under any circumstances, and due to heavy insistence he had gone to live in Tiny's apartment, sharing either her room or Richard's, whichever put up the best battle, a battle of love words and tenderness.

Chris wore all the proper undies along with a red satin dress and a long furred white Fox coat. His feet looked small and delicate in red high heeled shoes. He felt the part of Christine and his voice tones were of the girl who was within him. He wasn't quite sure what he was to do at the photographer's, but Richard had offered him more money for one day's work than he could have gotten at the office for a month. Richard had told him that he should do whatever the photographer wanted. There would be movies as well as stills taken. That was alright. Chris loved to see pictures of himself when he was Christine. There was some hint of nudity, but he didn't want to show off a boy's body. Yet he also thought he could take care of that. He had become a master at hiding his cock between his legs where only his pubic hairs showed. Anyone would believe it was a cunt, and he was showing the love nest hairs. His tits, because of the training brassiere he'd been wearing for a couple of years had been formed into small mounds; something many teenage girls supported. They would get him through that part of a nude scene.

He beamed at the thought of making very good money because in a much quicker time he could have silicone implanted to replace the rubber foam falsies. It was an expensive process and at the office it would take him years to save up that much. A few shots at the model business and he'd have it made . . . have them made. Even a full sex change operation wasn't beyond reason . . . if he decided he wanted it that way . . . he had heard that such an operation could be painful . . . he didn't like pain . . . his first ass fuck had been pain . . . it wasn't any longer.

Richard came out of the bedroom wearing a yellow, full pleated skirt with a light, but tight blue slipover sweater and a bulky knit yellow cardigan. The shoes matched the blue pullover. He had selected a long haired black wig for the occasion.

"I feel overly dressed," Chris indicated the clothes he wore. "And you look so young."

"I've got to be a schoolgirl today. You're wearing what they want." He laughed. "Maybe your first assignment will find you as a whore."

"I've had plenty of practice lately." Chris glanced at both of the bedroom doors.

"Ah, but that was for fun, not for money. Look . . . you look great. I wish I were in that outfit and you were in this."

Chris groaned in admiration. "So do I. You know sweaters are my big thing."

"I'll see what I can do for you the next shot."

"I'll count on that."

"Just do what the man tells you and you're in like flintsky. It's no big thing this kind of modeling, but as you now know, the money is big. You'll have a big red car just like mine in no time."

Chris' hands went to the front of the dress and cupped the falsies. "There is something else I want first."

"You've told me. But don't worry. You'll get everything your heart desires. Come on. We've got to get a move on. These guys don't like to be kept waiting."

Don't break any speed records."

"I'm a clinical driver." They left the apartment.

Solly Denver was a fat, sloppy man with a cigar always ready to flop over the edge of his desk when he leaned forward, but for most of the time he leaned back in a leather covered swivel chair with his feet up on the desk. Richard sat on a leather covered couch in a corner across the office, but Chris was put in a chair directly in front of the fat man where whiffs of the cigar smoke almost choked him.

"So Richard says you want to work for me . . . sorry Richie, I meant Regina."

"I guess I do."

"Don't ever guess. Either you do or you don't. You don't, there's the door."

Chris's

hands went

front of the

dress and cupped

the falsies,

"There

is something else I want first."

"I want to work for you."

"You know what kind of pictures I do?"

"Regina said I might have to go naked."

"Sometimes. I like that fur coat you got on. It gives me ideas. Let's see what kind of legs you got. Stand up right there where I can see."

Chris stood up and pulled up the skirt of the red dress. He loved what he was doing. He felt like all the chorus girls he'd ever seen in movies. He was extremely dainty in the pulling up of the dress . . . up to a point an inch or two below the crotch of his panty line.

The man made motions with his hand. "Up . . . Up . . . I want to see what else you got."

Chris looked across to Richard and his friend nodded in agreement with Solly. The red dress and the short slip underneath went up to the waist line and the bulge of his cock through the nylon panties, pink, was fully visible. But Chris suddenly felt no embarrassment about the actions. Again he was a chorus girl and showing what she had.

"Bring it out of the panties."

Christ hated the thing except when he wanted to cum. But if that was part of the interview, he supposed all would be well. He took his prick out through the panty leg, and it hung there like a wilted worm. The fat man leaned forward into his desk, and that's when Chris saw his belly lopping over the edge. "Make it hard," the man commanded and Chris simply gazed in disbelief at what he was hearing.

"I don't know if I can under these circumstances."

Richard got up from the couch and crossed to Chris. "Look, Chris. In this business you got to get a hard-on almost on command. It's all part of the game." Then he reached down and took Chris' cock in his hand and began a slow jerk off.

"Go ahead, Regina, do him. I ain't seen a show all day yet."

Richard sat Chris back down in the chair and knelt down in front of him and took the still flaccid cock in his hand. He wasted no time in moving his head forward, opening his lips and sucking the cock into his throat. His whirling, circling tongue began the miracle of erection. Chris closed his eyes and all the fantasies he had ever dreamed flashed through his mind. He was no longer in a dingy office, he was in the beautiful bedroom where Richard had first taken him. They were both in satin nighties, cocks pulled out through panty legs and Richard's hot, vibrating tongue was viciously attacking his dick.

He was shot back into the reality of his situation when the fat man's voice boomed into the pink cloud Chris rested upon. "Stand up now, and let me see it."

Chris watched Richard back off. Then he stood up, his cock sticking straight and hard out in front of him. He didn't touch the throbbing muscle with his hands, he used both of them to hold up the dress and the slip.

"Yeah, looks pretty good. But you gotta remember it all the time you get a blow job to get it up. Sometimes you gotta do it by yourself."

Then he looked to Richard, still on his knees on the floor, his eyes glazed, fastened on Chris' prick. "Go ahead and finish him off, if you want." Chris knew what that meant and he was all for it. The sucking had gotten his balls aching for release. He continued to hold the dress up as he sat down and Richard moved back in position to take the cock into his mouth.

Chris didn't close his eyes this time. He looked down to the very beautiful black haired, very young, sweater girl giving him the delicious head job. Chris knew he wouldn't last long. Richard was too good at what he was doing. He had a wicked tongue; more wicked than any of the girls who had performed the same service for him. Then it was that time. Chris felt his balls tighten. The electricity slammed through every nerve, and it became more powerful as Regina, for there was no longer a boy there, started to moan in her passion throes. Both suddenly stood up, grabbed their own cocks and began to masturbate with the fury of near frustration. Neither took their eyes off each other. It was as if a magnet had captured their visualizations. Neither looked to their cocks. They never did. Cocks weren't there. Neither possessed one. They were fingering their clits and stabbing into their cunts . . . and they shot into a towel which Solly had thrown to the floor in front of them just in time.

Their passions, and the feeling of the cum shot subsided slowly, and wilted from the fantastic experience. Chris sat back down and Richard went back to the couch.

"That was a good show, girls. I want to get that on film next time. Just like you did it, with the clothes and all. The young sweater girl sucking at the mother whore. That would be a good one. I'll get Ernie on it for maybe Friday. Yeah, that will be good! Why in hell didn't Ernie think of that?" he exploded. "New stuff I want. Old stuff I get." He pointed to them one at a time. "Same outfits, both of you." Then he looked directly at Chris again. "Get undressed. I want to see the whole thing."

Chris got up. He couldn't think of any reason he shouldn't take his clothes off. He'd already bared his cock and jerked off in front of the guy.

Chris slowly stripped out of the coat and put it on the back of the chair. He took the red dress by the hem and lifted it sexily up over his head and put that with the coat. Then there was the pink slip and the brassiere and panties. The falsies came out with the brassiere. The man came forward again as he looked at the small breast work on the boy's body.

"You got tit works on your front. Little ones but tits all the same. I like that. I got another idea. Put the coat back on but keep it open in the front."

Chris did as he was told. The coat gave him all the confidence he might have lacked. He reached down and started to duck his cock back between his legs so only his muff would show . . . the full girl illusion.

"What are you doing? Don't do that. I want to see cock and balls hanging out under that pure girl coat and little girl titties."

Chris hated to show his cock when the rest of him was girl. But, he did as he was told. He held the coat back with his hands on his naked hips. And when his hands touched his hips and the fur of the coat rubbed across his arms the stinging in his balls startled his entire nervous system again. His cock shot into renewed life; stood straight out in front of him, this time unhampered by the nylon panties.

"Make like a movie star."

Chris' mind shot around for the best pose he had ever seen, and he remembered one of Lana Turner in a marabou negligee, and he selected that one. The coat wasn't a marabou, but it had to suffice. He assumed the pose and held it until the fat man spoke again.

"Okay, that's good. We'll go downstairs to the studio and make some stills, that way you'll make some bucks today. Put your panties on and keep the coat on so you don't get raped going down the hallway." He got up and with cigar ashes trailing, he moved to the door.

At the door he turned to Richard.

"You got some shooting today, don't you?"

"School girl getting raped ass."

"Why in hell didn't the boys get a real girl for that ass fuck flick?"

"Something about the guy's not supposed to know anything about me until after he's shoved it into my ass and his hands come around front and there it is. But he's in up to the hilt already so he figures, what the hell."

"Okay, sounds good. Let's go!"

Chris did make another martini as he thought of Solly and that first episode in the office. He would think of him again. He downed the martini, fastened the fur coat and left his apartment, carrying the attache case tightly in his hand.
